If Phrimpong had "Ayela- Vanishing Medicine" He would have vanished from the studio. A lesson for him, he would not go to any studio for sometime. Shame.

Seriously Frimpong is a dope rapper but found himself calling for something he didn't plan for. To Frimpong, kindly apologise to your fans and people who listen to rap songs. The statement you made "the fans can think whatever they want is out of place. You cannot do music without fans or you'll listen to it yourself. Maybe you shouldn't be on radio to promote yourself. Guy relax, you're dope, watching your video with Strongman on Dr Pounds show... Serious you dey form but for today de3333 Lokal over you. Your intro started a battle and started rapping under pressure. Show less after watching this video I can see the panelist seems humiliating Phrimpong... lucky for me I watched Strongman, Phrimpong & Kwaku T on Dr Pounds rap attack of which he was on real fire...in short the panelist should have kept quite and make those hailing noise after both had finished... all you in the studio made him vulnerable which is not professional to my knowledge...
